In George Orwell's Animal Farm, propaganda plays a crucial role in consolidating Napoleon's power and manipulating the other animals. Squealer, Napoleon's spokesperson, utilizes persuasive language and misinformation to justify Napoleon's actions and policies. For example, after the destruction of the windmill, Squealer claims that Napoleon's leadership is essential for the animals' prosperity, despite evidence to the contrary. He also spreads the myth that Snowball is a traitor, creating fear and confusion among the animals. This manipulation ensures that the animals remain loyal and obedient, believing that their leaders act in their best interests. Orwell illustrates that propaganda is a powerful tool for totalitarian regimes to suppress dissent and maintain control, symbolized by the pigs' relentless use of slogans like "Four legs good, two legs better."
